smarter mobility

With analysts saying that smart device shipments will reach a staggering 1.7 billion units in 2014, it's time to extend Maximo's value and infuse smarter mobility into every facet of your business.

reinvent mobility

Interloc Mobile Informer applications mirror field workers exact processes on smart devices they want with performance they need — providing your business with 100% field user acceptance. Mobile Informer can bring GPS/GIS, RFID, barcode, ACM, linear, calibration, transportation or any Maximo process to your smart device.

next gen mobility

No additional servers to maintain; no connectivity worries. Get the native application that doesn't need middleware and is smart enough to know when it is connected but doesn't stop working when disconnected. Get the right data with more time to repair without interruption.

secure mobility

Interloc Mobile Informer provides MDM functionality and clearly differentiates between user roles — keeping both your business data and devices secure.

email mobility

Mobility is not just for the field. With the addition of Interloc Mailer, Maximo workflow actions can now be extended to the email inbox of your office workers on their mobile device. For the first time, an approver has all the details they need and the ability to take Maximo action from an email with a single click.
